

Why not ride in comfort?

"Wearing LDComfort™ riding shorts removed the single greatest impediment to successfully completing my Iron Butt rides. Without the LDComfort™ shorts I experienced discomfort as soon as 40 minutes into a ride. After purchasing the LDComfort™ shorts I can ride comfortably in up to 95 degree temperatures. In higher temperatures, a minute or two standing on the pegs will evaporate the perspiration and I am good for another hour in the saddle. No longer do I wish for a giant cold shoe horn to pry my sorry butt out of the saddle after a long ride.

Thanks, LDComfort™."

About LDComfort™ Riding Undergarments:

NOT like ANY other underwear or “sport” shorts LDComfort™ Riding Shorts were designed by a long distance motorcycle rider. They have no seams in the seating area and have a close fit to avoid wrinkles. There are NO pads to hold in moisture and bacteria or to retain soap and chemicals. The leg openings feature a one way traction strip to prevent the material from riding up the leg and creating folds in the fabric. The waist is made to come up a bit higher to prevent stacking waistbands and for further protection from your outer garments. The men’s shorts also have a convenient Roo-Fly™. Designed specifically for long distance motorcycle riders many people find our underwear suitable for a variety of situations.

We use a unique, dual layer material to make our all our garments.

The special wicking properties of this material help keep skin dryer than any other material on the market. Moisture moves through the dry inner layer to the outer layer keeping moisture off your skin. Even when the garment is wringing wet, the inside stays dry.

The material offers a four way stretch that stays with you and prevents chaffing. This microfiber wonder will look new for the many years LDComfort garments can last.

With proper use, you can use LDComfort™ riding apparel in a wide range of temperatures. Tests show you can ride from 30°F to 120°F without stopping to change garments. With our special fabric, you can add water and airflow for cooling without making your skin feel clammy. You can also shut off the airflow for warmth. For full body protection and comfort try our Riding Tights and Long Sleeve Tops.

LDComfort is the only manufacturer of this unique thought-out design. If it doesn't say LDComfort on the label, it's not the best riding undergarment.

Sarah Jane shares washing tips:

PLEASE WASH NEW GARMENTS BEFORE USE.

LDComfort garments are simple to wash by hand or machine. Air dry or use low heat.

USE NO BLEACH, FABRIC SOFTENERS OR DRYER SHEETS!

While traveling you can hand wash LDComfort in Motel/Hotel sink by using a mild liquid soap such as shampoo. Rinse garment with clean water and wring out excess water. Hang to dry.

To speed drying time: Lay garment flat on a towel and roll the towel. Wring the towel and moisture gets absorbed into the towel. Remove garment from towel and hang to finish drying.
